Time, Talent & Treasure

Stewardship Thought for the Week.

Following Christ is not always easy. He may call us to leave our comfort space and make some changes in our lives. If we are going to talk the talk, we must walk the walk. This week, start following Jesus by resolving to go to confession. Check your church bulletin for times.

Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

For a change of pace on these Sundays until Labor Day, I'm offering examples of people from the 20th century whose lives give us a chance to appreciate the different ways that faith can be lived and shared. ~Fr. Jim

Agneta Chang Maryknoll Sister and Martyr (1910-1950)

Agneta Chang, who came from a prominent and devoutly Catholic family, was among the first Koreans to join the American-based Maryknoll Sisters in 1922. In describing the reason for her application, she wrote, "In order to become holy and then to help my country and people." After spending her novitiate in the motherhouse in New York, she was assigned to return to Korea, where she spent a number of peaceful years in parish and catechetical work. This was interrupted by the outbreak of World War II, when the American-born sisters were imprisoned by the Japanese and then repatriated. Sr. Agneta remained behind, cut off from the outside, as she helped to develop the first Korean women's congregation, the Sisters of Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

Upon the conclusion of the war, with Korea divided at the 38th Parallel, Sr. Agneta and her novices found themselves trapped in the Communist North. Though bedridden as a result of an old injury, she was ordered to report for mandatory civil defense work. When she could not comply, soldiers loaded her on an oxcart, and she was carried away. She was last seen on October 4, 1950. Her last words were, "Lord, have mercy on us." Word later arrived that Sr. Agneta was shot and buried in a nearby ditch.

"Oh miserable night! My heart seemed to shatter and break into a thousand pieces and it seemed pitiless to me that the ground did not cleave open."

—A fellow sister, describing Sr. Agneta's arrest

CYBER SAFETY TIPS ~

Technology is both hyper-visible and invisible.

BY MARY MCMAHON

- * Wireless companies offer safety controls and privacy features. Know what your phone carrier provides.
- * Phones offer web access and apps: put a web-filtering program on the phone.
- * Phones with GPS: turn off location settings.
- * Restrict the content to age-appropriate material/apps.
- * Set a password so apps can't be downloaded without it.
- * Turn off WiFi and keep the phone in airplane mode.

Model the appropriate use of technology for your child. Communication between you and your child is essential — tell your child what you expect, what you value and set limits as to what is and what is not acceptable online behavior. Never allow cellphones during dinner. To demonstrate how important your child is to you, turn off your phone when speaking with your child.

Be interested in your child's online activity. Talk to your child about the online games they are playing — or play games online with them. ➤

Online gaming has some 'up-sides.' Teens interact with each other, it provides some down time and offers opportunity to build skills related to success: focus, determination and creativity.

However, do set limits. Remind your child that online not everything is true, not everyone is who they say they are and once an image or information is posted online: "YOU HAVE NO CONTROL OVER WHERE IT GOES AND WHO SEES IT!" Social networking is now the main vehicle to connect with peers. And connect, they do!!!! Everything is shared — very little remains private.

Caution your child on the dangers of 'oversharing' — only post what they are comfortable sharing.

CHILDRENS' ONLINE PRIVACY ACT: COPRA

Did you know you can control the personal information children under 13 years put online? A website or service must receive parental consent before collecting information from a child under age 13.

Sites and services must contact parents directly for permission to collect, use or disclose personal information about a child. This includes phone numbers, name, address, e-mail, location, photos, videos, audio recordings. To file a complaint, go to www.ftc.gov/complaint.

Be proactive: review your child's friend list and ask who they are 'talking' to when they are online.

Campaign Catch Up

July 7, 2019

Vol II Edition 22

Total Pledged: $857,880

We've Made Concrete Progress

As you attend mass this weekend, you should be seeing the concrete poured for the walls on our new bridge. Last week we set the colors for the concrete on the top of the bridge. Things are moving forward.

Now that the front entrance is not available, the only entrances to the church for the time being will be the side stairways.

We have put together a list of Masses in neighboring parishes in this bulletin and copies are in the lobby and parish center. The contractor is the same one we used for the side steps and the rail fabricator already has the specs. We are hoping that the summer months will be enough time to have a new entrance installed (which will not be a bridge).

We await the work to begin on the Parish Center heating conversion.

On July 3rd there was a walk-thru scheduled with contractors for the kitchen and restroom work in the auditorium. Once we receive their proposals, we can sign contracts and have a better idea of scheduling when we learn when they can put us on their calendars.

Proposed Schedule of Work

PHASE I Fall 2018

Approximate Cost: $450,000

- Replace the Church Entrance Bridge and Side Stairways
- Mandated Removal of the oil tank in the Parish Center and replace the Boiler
- Update the Kitchen in the Auditorium

PHASE II Fall 2019

Approximate Cost: $290,000

- Update Auditorium Bathrooms and Replace Parish Center's Handicapped lift
- Add Handicapped Parking spaces and Re-coat & re-stripe the Parking lot

- Install new padding on the kneelers

PHASE III Fall 2020

Approximate Cost: $210,000

- Update Fire and Security Alarm systems in the Church and Parish Center

- Replace the Sidewalks
- Replace the Windows in the Parish Center
