The cold of the winter season makes us yearn for the warmth of places like Florida. You're lucky if you can get to a warmer climate if just for a few days. As I write this column, the weather forecast is showing a major snowstorm for Sunday the 25th. What will happen? I don't know at this early juncture. It's always best, though, to prepare intelligently for the worst-case scenario. We'll see soon enough.

With the likelihood of more bad weather on the horizon then, I want to treat an issue with very real consequences for parish life, and that would be the financial support that comes from parishioners. You will recall that I like to use two words in reference to the giving habits of Catholics to their parishes. The two words are: generous and sacrificial. Your giving must have these two attributes in order to be good stewards. Yes, that's what we should all strive after: being good stewards not just of my time and talent but of my treasure. Being generous and sacrificial though are conceptual in nature.

What we need to do is make our generosity and sacrifice operational. And that would involve mathematics and numbers. What do I write on my envelope alongside $? And what do I write in my checkbook alongside Saint Margaret RC Church?

Thus far, we have had snowfalls three times before this weekend. There were two in December and one earlier in this month. Every time it snows, we have to spend money to remove the white stuff on the ground and make sure the pathways are salted and sanded. And then there are the parking spaces that have to be cleared. All of these acts cost hundreds and even thousands of $$$ (labor, equipment, and products) per snowfall.

I ask all parishioners to consider thoughtfully and carefully what you are contributing to Saint Margaret Parish currently. Is that contribution really generous and sacrificial? Have I increased my offering to my parish to take into account the rise in the cost of living in the last few years?

We have some parishioners who are exceptionally generous and sacrificial in their giving. But not enough of them, unfortunately. I call upon those who have not yet shown generosity and sacrifice in their giving to step up and help your parish. Without your generosity and sacrifice, we fail as a whole to practice a satisfactory stewardship.

As for my next subject in this column, I want to address another sensitive topic for church-goers and that would be the eclipse of reverence inside the church. By now, you have heard me comment from time to time on how we should conduct ourselves in the Presence of our God. And that's why, for example, we ought to use genuflections because they reflect the truth that Christ is really with us under the appearance of bread and wine. We can't see that truth with our own eyes. But we profess it, or we ought to profess it, in our conduct.

A part of the reverence which should prevail in Catholic churches is the elimination of unnecessary noise. Pardon me for saying so, but there is far too much noise in our church.

Reverence has a lot to do with place. And, by that, I mean that our conduct is right and appropriate for what takes place there. It is undeniable that worship takes place in church. Our worship is directed to God Who dwells there. Without silence, we are less inclined to be mindful of the very purpose of being in church. It's what Moses forgot and had to be reminded of when he was at Horeb, the mountain of God. (Ex 3:!) Although the burning bush, the sign of God's Presence, was not consumed (Ex 3:2), Moses still had to be reminded: "Remove the sandals from your feet, for the place where you stand is holy ground." (Ex 3:5)

We do not make the church holy, God does. Let us therefore make better efforts to reduce the noise level in our church. There is plenty of time for socializing elsewhere. But when it comes to where God dwells, let us endeavor to be quiet there. Quiet are our hearts that we may hear the softest whispers of God there.

In a future column, I want to address some other aspects about our worship.

Until the next time.

Msgr. Batule
Pastor

Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament

Sundays 11:15-11:45AM
Saturdays 4:00-4:45PM

Thursday, February 5th 3:00-6:00PM

Adoration is the highest act of worship. By sitting quietly before His presence in the Blessed Sacrament, we offer to God what is most personal and pleasing – our time and our hearts. This allows our gracious God to draw us lovingly to Himself. By joining our adoration to prayer and praise, we celebrate that we are the Body of Christ. Come experience the beauty of this holy exchange heart to heart.

Saint Margaret's Spousal Bereavement

Both individual and group bereavement counseling services are available for those who are mourning the loss of their spouse. All confidential sessions are held on a weekly basis. Participants need not be Saint Margaret's parishioners. For more information please contact Barbara Gottfried at (631) 698-6053.

Blessing of the Throats

The feast of Saint Blaise is Tuesday, February 3rd. Following Mass, a special blessing of the throats will take place. All are invited to attend Mass at 9:00AM and stay for a blessing following the Mass.

“Through the intercession of Saint Blaise, bishop and martyr, may God deliver you from every disease of the throat and from every other illness. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.”

Saint Margaret's Ministry of Hope

If you feel you are being called to minister to those who have recently lost a loved one, consider calling the Parish Center for more information on the Ministry of Hope. Its members reach out to those who have recently lost a loved one, conduct a prayer service at the funeral home if necessary, and assist the priest with the funeral.

Mass Book

The 2026 Mass Book is open. We encourage you to remember deceased relatives and friends at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Through the Communion of Saints, we are never removed from those whom we love. We hope for a reunion with them in God's providence, and praying for them now helps to bring that reunion a nearer prospect.

Church Hours

The church is open at 8:30AM Monday through Friday. We encourage parishioners and other churchgoers to come early for Mass. The recitation of the rosary is encouraged among those inclined.
